

OS & SP - ASSIGNMENT - DAY 5

1. Create a file using open system call with 0644 permissions
2. Open an existing file called as "hello.txt" and
  - a. read & display the content
  - b. Display the file descriptor numbers.
3. Change the folder of "hello.txt" and open the file by giving absolute path
4. Change the permissions of "hello.txt" file to 0444 using command chmod and
  - a. display the error in opening the file for writing
  - b. open the file for reading
  - c. read content from 7th byte onwards.
5. Change the permissions of "hello.txt" file to 0666 using command chmod and
  - a. open the file for reading/writing
  - b. copy the first 10 bytes of content
  - c. write the copied content from 15th byte onwards
6. Determine the size of a file using only system calls
How many ways could you find to so?